

History comes alive!

Patricia Humphries Fann

presents

The Ghost of Harriet Tubman

Patricia Humphries Fann, journalist and educator, portrays the great hero of the Underground Railroad. Harriet Tubman, an escaped slave, returned to the South 19 times and brought 300 people to freedom.

Ms. Humphries Fann, of Newport, Kentucky, has portrayed Tubman for 31 years in schools and venues across the country and in England.

"No one, in my mind, has been more courageous than Harriet Tubman," says Fann.

Ideal for students of all ages, history buffs, and everyone who loves a good story!

Free and open to the public

Turpin High School Theater

2650 Bartels Rd., Cincinnati, Ohio 45244

Saturday, October 8, 7:00 PM

For more information, visit www.gappeace.org

Sponsored by Anderson Churches for Racial Unity and GAPP
(Greater Anderson Promotes Peace)

